INTRODUCTION

- According to IMARC Group, TechSci Research, and other market research sources ,the pizza market in India is growing rapidly, valued at ₹5,000 crore (USD 5 billion) in 2024 with an annual growth rate of 12%.
- College students and young adults form one of the largest consumer segments for pizza in India. Multiple studies and smaller surveys indicate that students contribute a significant proportion of sales, especially near college clusters and urban centers.
- The demand for online and delivery-based pizza services is rising, with students and young adults preferring quick, convenient, and app-based ordering, driving revenue growth in urban areas.

SIZE OF MARKET

The difference in India pizza market size figures stems from varying sources and scopes. One estimates USD 5.44 billion (₹45,000 crore) for 2025, representing a broad market view including all sales channels and forecasts. Another cites USD 5.3 billion (₹5,000 crore) for 2024, likely focusing on a narrower segment. Differences arise from timeframes, market definitions, and data scope. Both are valid within their contexts, so specifying source, year, and market scope is essential for clarity and consistency. Choosing one authoritative source for analysis is recommended.

MARKET SIZE OF PIZZA MARKET

REVENUE FROM DIFFERENT VARIETY

Pizza Sales Distribution

DIRECT COMPETITOR

- Go 69 Pizza – Popular among college students for its affordable pricing and wide local presence, but lacks strong online delivery integration.
- Pizza enterprize – Competes with similar menu variety and combo offers, but service speed and consistency are lower compared to La Pino'z.
- Local Pizza Shops – Offer lower prices and familiar taste but have limited menu options and weaker brand value.

INDIRECT COMPETITOR

- Local Fast Food Outlets – Focus on burgers, rolls, and momos with low prices, but lack pizza specialization .
- Online Delivery Platforms (Zomato/Swiggy Partner Stores) – Provide ease of access to many brands, but La Pino'z benefits from its own dedicated app and faster delivery.
- Might offer complementary products or services that could substitute or supplement ours.

B. Store (offline): 25–30%

C. La Pino'z App: 20–25%

D. Swiggy: 15–20%

KEY COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGES

Affordable Pricing

La Pino'z Pizza offers lower prices than major chains like Domino's or Pizza Hut, making it popular among students and budget-conscious customers.

Larger Portion Sizes

Its pizzas are big and filling, ideal for groups, parties, or sharing, giving more value for money.

Unique Flavors & Customization

Specialty pizzas like Mexican Green Wave, Double Cheese, and Chicken Overload with customizable toppings create a personalized and tasty experience.

Fresher & Quicker Service

Emphasizing freshly made pizzas and fast delivery, it appeals to students and young professionals who value quick and reliable service.

PROBLEM FACED BY FIRM

Limited staff during peak hours

Occasional stock-outs of popular items, especially during promotions, lead to lost sales.

Overcrowding during festivals

Tables are often full and not cleaned promptly, leading to long waiting times and lower customer satisfaction.

Delayed delivery

Late deliveries, especially during peak hours and festivals, reduce customer satisfaction and repeat orders, impacting the brand's reputation.
